Notice to Mariners.

LIGHT-HOUSES have been erected on FOUL POINT and ROUND ISLAND in the entrance of TRINCOMALIE HARBOUR. The lights are of the following description, and will be exhibited from Sun-set to Sun-rise every night after the 1st of February 1864:—

FOUL POINT.—A flash light shewing a brilliant flash every half minute, which is plainly visible 17 miles in clear weather from a vessel's deck elevated 18 feet above the sea; a faint light is shewn between the flashes, which is not visible beyond a distance of 7 miles.

ROUND ISLAND.—A fixed bright light, which is plainly visible 10 miles in clear weather from a Vessel's deck elevated 18 feet above the sea: it shows a red light when brought to bear between the points W. by S. ½ S, and S. W. ½ S., which is not visible beyond a distance of 6 or 7 miles. Approaching between these bearings the bright light is not seen.

The following directions are for the guidance of Vessels entering the inner harbour. Approaching from the Southward bring Foul Point light to bear West, distant 2 miles; then steer N. W. until Round Island light bears W. S. W.; then steer direct for it until the extreme point of * Chapel Hill bears North; then steer W. by N. until Round Island light bears S. by E. ½ E.; then steer N. by W. ½ W., passing midway between Ostenberg Point and Sober Island, and keeping Round Island light bearing S. by E. ½ E.; anchor immediately when the water is shoaled to † 12 fathoms.

Approaching from the Northward when Foul Point light is made, bring it to bear S. by E. ½ E., and steer direct for it until Round Island light bears S. W. ½ W.; then steer direct for it until the extreme point of Chapel Hill bears N. by E. ½ E.,; and then follow the directions already given for approaching from the Southward after Chapel Hill bears North.

The Red light is intended to direct Vessels clear of the dangers off Foul Point and Chapel Rock; therefore vessels working into the harbour should be careful to keep within its limits.

* Chapel Hill being a high bluff headland may be easily distinguished in the darkest night, as when brought to bear N. or N. by E. ½ E., it will be only 1½ mile distant, and will be the extreme point of land visible in that direction.

† The Lead should be kept going after passing Ostenberg Point, as the water shoals rapidly from 25 to 12 fathoms.

The Examination will be conducted as nearly as possible in accordance with the Rules laid down by the late Sudder Court in February 1861. These Rules are as follows:—

1. There shall be two distinct Grades or Classes of Pleaders as heretofore.

2. The Senior Grade shall be allowed to plead at the Bar of all the Courts subordinate to the High Court, Civil, Criminal, and Revenue, and shall be further eligible for the office of Moonsiff.

3. The Junior Grade shall be restricted to practise in the Courts of the Sudder Ameen, the Moonsiff, the Magistrate, the Collector and their Subordinates.

4. The Examination shall be partly written and partly vivâ vôce.

5. The vivâ vôce Examination shall be such as to test the practical knowledge of the Candidates on questions connected with the subjects of the test.

6. The written Examination papers shall be prepared by Examiners who shall act in conjunction with, and under the control of, the High Court.

7. The written Examination shall form the subject of two papers, of which the former shall embrace questions relative to the Law of Property and its subordinate heads, and the second, questions on Evidence, Civil and Criminal Procedure, and Criminal Law. The maximum number of marks for each of these papers shall be 100, and no Candidate shall be held to have passed unless he shall have obtained 160 marks in the two papers.

8. Applications for admission to Examination shall in all cases be sent or submitted to the Zillah Judge of the District in which the Candidate resides, or is employed, at least one month before the date fixed for Examination, and the Candidate shall satisfy the Judge by Certificate or otherwise that he is a person of good moral character. STATEMENTS OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN consequence of the recent alteration in the system of Salt manufacture in Bengal, many enactments relating to that subject have no longer any operation.

Sections III to XXIX, inclusive, LVI to LXXVI inclusive, LXXXVIII to CXXVI, inclusive, of Regulation X of 1819, have reference to the manufacture of Salt by the direct agency of Government.

That agency having been discontinued, and a system having been adopted by the Government under which Salt is manufactured by licensed persons, so much of Regulation X of 1819 as relates to the appointment of Officers in the Salt Department, their powers, and duties; together with so much of Regulation X of 1826 as provides for the sale of Salt by Government servants; and Act IX of 1835; have ceased to be of any effect.

The proposed Law, therefore, repeals all such provisions, and at the same time defines the rights of the Government with reference to the new system of manufacture now in practice. Upon the principle declared in Section XXX of Regulation X of 1819,* the making of Salt by all persons other than those duly licensed by the Government is prohibited in the Bill, and the duty which is now obtained from licensed manufacturers is declared to be payable at the rate now paid.

* Alimentary Salt shall not be made in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, excepting on account of Government or with their sanction.

The Bill amends and consolidates that branch of the law on this subject which relates to the seizure of contraband Salt.

The prohibition† of the possession and transport, within certain territorial limits to be defined by the Government, of Salt not protected by a Rowannah or pass issued by the authority of the Board of Revenue, is re-enacted, and the provisions of Regulation X of 1819,‡ for enforcing this prohibition, with the modifications and amendments effected by Acts XXIX of 1838 and III of 1851, are contained in the present Bill.

† Section XXXVI of Regulation X of 1819 Also Act XXIX of 1838, and Act III of 1851.

‡ Section XXXVI et Seq.

The powers exercised, under the laws which it is proposed to repeal, by the Agents formerly employed—except where those powers were of a judicial character—are by this Bill conferred on Police Officers.

The adjudication of fines, penalties, and confiscations, is transferred to the ordinary criminal tribunals, while large powers of [illegible] are given to the Board of Revenue.

The provisions of the Indian Penal Code have rendered unnecessary many of the penal clauses of the Laws which it is proposed to amend. It does not seem requisite to re-enact the law relating to the adulteration* of Salt; such adulteration, so far as it affects the public, being dealt with by the Penal Code, and not in itself affecting the Revenue.

* Contained in Sections LXXVII to LXXXIV of Regulation X of 1819. Also in Regulation X of 1826.

The Bill repeals Act XIII of 1849, but, except so far as it relates to the appointment of the Superintendent of Salt Chowkies and other matters now inconsistent with the altered system of manufacture, re-enacts its provisions.

With the exception of a slight difference as to procedure in reference to offences committed within the town of Calcutta, the law proposed is uniform within the limits above referred to, including the Town of Calcutta.

Statements of Objects and Reasons.

In consequence of the recent alteration in the system of Salt manufacture in Bengal, many enactments relating to that subject have no longer any operation.

Sections III to XXIX, inclusive, LVI to LXXVI inclusive, LXXXVIII to CXXVI, inclusive, of Regulation X of 1819, have reference to the manufacture of Salt by the direct agency of Government.

That agency having been discontinued, and a system having been adopted by the Government under which Salt is manufactured by licensed persons, so much of Regulation X of 1819 as relates to the appointment of Officers in the Salt Department, their powers, and duties; together with so much of Regulation X of 1826 as provides for the sale of Salt by Government servants; and Act IX of 1835; have ceased to be of any effect.

The proposed Law, therefore, repeals all such provisions, and at the same time defines the rights of the Government with reference to the new system of manufacture now in practice. Upon the principle declared in Section XXX of Regulation X of 1819,* the making of Salt by all persons other than those duly licensed by the Government is prohibited in the Bill, and the duty which is now obtained from licensed manufacturers is declared to be payable at the rate now paid.

* Alimentary Salt shall not be made in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, excepting on account of Government or with their sanction.

The Bill amends and consolidates that branch of the law on this subject which relates to the seizure of contraband Salt.

The prohibition† of the possession and transport, within certain territorial limits to be defined by the Government, of Salt not protected by a Rowannah or pass issued by the authority of the Board of Revenue, is re-enacted, and the provisions of Regulation X of 1819,‡ for enforcing this prohibition, with the modifications and amendments effected by Acts XXIX of 1838 and III of 1851, are contained in the present Bill.

† Section XXXVI of Regulation X of 1819 Also Act XXIX of 1838, and Act III of 1851.

‡ Section XXXVI et Seq.

The powers exercised, under the laws which it is proposed to repeal, by the Agents formerly employed—except where those powers were of a judicial character—are by this Bill conferred on Police Officers.

The adjudication of fines, penalties, and confiscations, is transferred to the ordinary criminal tribunals, while large powers of [illegible] are given to the Board of Revenue.

The provisions of the Indian Penal Code have rendered unnecessary many of the penal clauses of the Laws which it is proposed to amend. It does not seem requisite to re-enact the law relating to the adulteration* of Salt; such adulteration, so far as it affects the public, being dealt with by the Penal Code, and not in itself affecting the Revenue.

* Contained in Sections LXXVII to LXXXIV of Regulation X of 1819. Also in Regulation X of 1826.

The Bill repeals Act XIII of 1849, but, except so far as it relates to the appointment of the Superintendent of Salt Chowkies and other matters now inconsistent with the altered system of manufacture, re-enacts its provisions.

With the exception of a slight difference as to procedure in reference to offences committed within the town of Calcutta, the law proposed is uniform within the limits above referred to, including the Town of Calcutta.
